

SPUTUM

General Guidelines       and date of birth or medicare number).         2. The use of gloves is required when handling all biological specimens.         3. A valid requisition must include the following information :         • First and last name of the patient, date of birth or medicare number and ge         • Date and time of specimen collection and signature of collector.         • Physician's full name, signature and license number (or other qualified prescriber).         • Any relevant clinical information.         • Requested tests.         1. Patient should rinse mouth with water;         2. Any sputum with saliva or post-nasal secretions are not acceptable for testing;         3. Only specimens obtained from a deep cough and with thick consistency are acceptable for testing;         3. Cough to produce a deep expectoration by tapping several times on the chest;         4. Collect expectoration directly into the sterile container. A volume of at least 1n necessary;         5. Close the container tightly;         6. Identify the container with the following information:         • First and last name;         • Date of birth and Medicare number;         • Date of birth and medicare number;         • Date of birth and medicare number;         • Collect expectoration directly into the sterile container. A volume of at least 1n necessary;         5. Close the container tightly;         6. Identify the container with the following info	Document number	LA-75-WI-110E_02.20
Medical Supplies       • Sterile container;         Biohazard bag;       1. All specimens must include a double identification (first and last name of the prand date of birth or medicare number).         General Guidelines       1. All specimens must include the following information :         General Guidelines       2. The use of gloves is required when handling all biological specimens.         3. A valid requisition must include the following information :       • First and last name of the patient, date of birth or medicare number and ge         • Date and time of specimen collection and signature of collector.       • Physician's full name, signature and license number (or other qualified prescriber).         • Any relevant clinical information.       • Requested tests.         1. Patient should rinse mouth with water;       2. Any sputum with saliva or post-nasal secretions are not acceptable for testing;         3. Only specimens obtained from a deep cough and with thick consistency are acceptable for testing.       1) Wear a protective mask;         2) Open the sterile container;       3) Cough to produce a deep expectoration by tapping several times on the chest;         4) Collect expectoration directly into the sterile container. A volume of at least 1n necessary;       6) Identify the container with the following information:         • First and last name;       • Date and time of collection.       7) Place the container with the following information:         • Specimen Collection       • First and last name;       • Date and ti	Revision date	2018-Jul-04
Biohazard bag;         1. All specimens must include a double identification (first and last name of the prain and date of birth or medicare number).         2. The use of gloves is required when handling all biological specimens.         3. A valid requisition must include the following information :         • First and last name of the patient, date of birth or medicare number and ge         • Date and time of specimen collection and signature of collector.         • Physician's full name, signature and license number (or other qualified prescriber).         • Any relevant clinical information.         • Patient Preparation         2. Open the sterile.         1. Patient should rinse mouth with water;         2. Any sputum with saliva or post-nasal secretions are not acceptable for testing;         3. Only specimens obtained from a deep cough and with thick consistency are acceptable for testing.         1. Wear a protective mask;         2) Open the sterile container;         3) Cough to produce a deep expectoration by tapping several times on the chest;         4) Collect expectoration directly into the sterile container. A volume of at least 1n necessary;         5) Close the container with the following information:         • First and last name;         • Date and time of collection.         1n necessary;         5) Close the container with the following information:         • First and last name;	Required Specimen Type	Expectoration sample./sputum
General Guidelines       1. All specimens must include a double identification (first and last name of the parand date of birth or medicare number).         2. The use of gloves is required when handling all biological specimens.         3. A valid requisition must include the following information :         • First and last name of the patient, date of birth or medicare number and ge         • Date and time of specimen collection and signature of collector.         • Physician's full name, signature and license number (or other qualified prescriber).         • Any relevant clinical information.         • Requested tests.         1. Patient should rinse mouth with water;         2. Any sputum with saliva or post-nasal secretions are not acceptable for testing;         3. Only specimens obtained from a deep cough and with thick consistency are acceptable for testing;         3. Cough to produce a deep expectoration by tapping several times on the chest;         4) Collect expectoration directly into the sterile container. A volume of at least 1n necessary;         5) Close the container tightly;         6) Identify the container with the following information:         • First and last name;         • Date of birth and Medicare number;         • Date and time of	Medical Supplies	Sterile container;
General Guidelines       and date of birth or medicare number).         2. The use of gloves is required when handling all biological specimens.         3. A valid requisition must include the following information :         • First and last name of the patient, date of birth or medicare number and ge         • Date and time of specimen collection and signature of collector.         • Physician's full name, signature and license number (or other qualified prescriber).         • Any relevant clinical information.         • Requested tests.         1. Patient should rinse mouth with water;         2. Any sputum with saliva or post-nasal secretions are not acceptable for testing;         3. Only specimens obtained from a deep cough and with thick consistency are acceptable for testing.         1) Wear a protective mask;         2) Open the sterile container;         3) Cough to produce a deep expectoration by tapping several times on the chest;         4) Collect expectoration directly into the sterile container. A volume of at least 1n necessary;         5) Close the container tightly;         6) Identify the container with the following information:         • First and last name;         • Date of birth and Medicare number;         • Date and time of collection.		Biohazard bag;
General Guidelines       3. A valid requisition must include the following information : <ul> <li>First and last name of the patient, date of birth or medicare number and ge</li> <li>Date and time of specimen collection and signature of collector.</li> <li>Physician's full name, signature and license number (or other qualified prescriber).</li> <li>Any relevant clinical information.</li> <li>Requested tests.</li> </ul> <li>Patient Preparation</li> <li>I. Patient should rinse mouth with water;</li> <li>Any sputum with saliva or post-nasal secretions are not acceptable for testing;</li> <li>Only specimens obtained from a deep cough and with thick consistency are acceptable for testing.</li> <li>Wear a protective mask;</li> <li>Open the sterile container;</li> <li>Cough to produce a deep expectoration by tapping several times on the chest;</li> <li>Collect expectoration directly into the sterile container. A volume of at least 1n necessary;</li> <li>Close the container tightly;</li> <li>Identify the container with the following information:                  <ul> <li>First and last name;</li> <li>Date of birth and Medicare number;</li> <li>Date of birth and Medicare number;</li> <li>Date and time of collection.</li> <li>Place the container in the biohazard bag;</li> <li>Wash hands with soap and water;</li> <li>Return the container as soon as possible to laboratory or physician's office.</li> </ul> </li>	General Guidelines	1. All specimens must include a double identification (first and last name of the patient and date of birth or medicare number).
General Guidelines <ul> <li>First and last name of the patient, date of birth or medicare number and general Guidelines</li> <li>Date and time of specimen collection and signature of collector.</li> <li>Physician's full name, signature and license number (or other qualified prescriber).</li> <li>Any relevant clinical information.</li> <li>Requested tests.</li> </ul> <li>Patient Preparation         <ul> <li>Patient should rinse mouth with water;</li> <li>Any sputum with saliva or post-nasal secretions are not acceptable for testing;</li> <li>Only specimens obtained from a deep cough and with thick consistency are acceptable for testing.</li> <li>Wear a protective mask;</li> <li>Open the sterile container;</li> <li>Cough to produce a deep expectoration by tapping several times on the chest;</li> <li>Collect expectoration directly into the sterile container. A volume of at least 1n necessary;</li> <li>Close the container tightly;</li> <li>Identify the container with the following information:                  <ul> <li>First and last name;</li> <li>Date of birth and Medicare number;</li> <li>Date of birth and Medicare number;</li> <li>Date and time of collection.</li> </ul> </li> <li>Place the container in the biohazard bag;</li> <li>Wash hands with soap and water;</li> <li>Return the container as soon as possible to laboratory or physician's office.</li> </ul> </li>		2. The use of gloves is required when handling all biological specimens.
General Guidelines <ul> <li>Date and time of specimen collection and signature of collector.</li> <li>Physician's full name, signature and license number (or other qualified prescriber).</li> <li>Any relevant clinical information.</li> <li>Requested tests.</li> </ul> <li>Patient Preparation         <ul> <li>Patient should rinse mouth with water;</li> <li>Any sputum with saliva or post-nasal secretions are not acceptable for testing;</li> <li>Only specimens obtained from a deep cough and with thick consistency are acceptable for testing.</li> </ul> </li> <li>Wear a protective mask;         <ul> <li>Open the sterile container;</li> <li>Cough to produce a deep expectoration by tapping several times on the chest;</li> <li>Collect expectoration directly into the sterile container. A volume of at least 1n necessary;</li> <li>Close the container tightly;</li> <li>Identify the container with the following information:                 <ul> <li>First and last name;</li> <li>Date of birth and Medicare number;</li> <li>Date and time of collection.</li> <li>Place the container in the biohazard bag;</li> <li>Wash hands with soap and water;</li> <li>Return the container as soon as possible to laboratory or physician's office.</li></ul></li></ul></li>		3. A valid requisition must include the following information :
prescriber).       • Any relevant clinical information.         • Requested tests.         Patient Preparation         1. Patient should rinse mouth with water;         2. Any sputum with saliva or post-nasal secretions are not acceptable for testing;         3. Only specimens obtained from a deep cough and with thick consistency are acceptable for testing.         1) Wear a protective mask;         2) Open the sterile container;         3) Cough to produce a deep expectoration by tapping several times on the chest;         4) Collect expectoration directly into the sterile container. A volume of at least 1n necessary;         5) Close the container tightly;         6) Identify the container with the following information:         • First and last name;         • Date of birth and Medicare number;         • Date and time of collection.         7) Place the container in the biohazard bag;         8) Wash hands with soap and water;         9) Return the container as soon as possible to laboratory or physician's office.		Date and time of specimen collection and signature of collector.
<ul> <li>Requested tests.</li> <li>Patient should rinse mouth with water;</li> <li>Any sputum with saliva or post-nasal secretions are not acceptable for testing;</li> <li>Only specimens obtained from a deep cough and with thick consistency are acceptable for testing.</li> <li>Wear a protective mask;</li> <li>Open the sterile container;</li> <li>Cough to produce a deep expectoration by tapping several times on the chest;</li> <li>Collect expectoration directly into the sterile container. A volume of at least 1n necessary;</li> <li>Close the container tightly;</li> <li>Identify the container with the following information:         <ul> <li>First and last name;</li> <li>Date of birth and Medicare number;</li> <li>Date and time of collection.</li> </ul> </li> <li>Place the container in the biohazard bag;</li> <li>Wash hands with soap and water;</li> <li>Return the container as soon as possible to laboratory or physician's office.</li> </ul>		prescriber).
Patient Preparation       1. Patient should rinse mouth with water;         2. Any sputum with saliva or post-nasal secretions are not acceptable for testing;         3. Only specimens obtained from a deep cough and with thick consistency are acceptable for testing.         1) Wear a protective mask;         2) Open the sterile container;         3) Cough to produce a deep expectoration by tapping several times on the chest;         4) Collect expectoration directly into the sterile container. A volume of at least 1n necessary;         5) Close the container tightly;         6) Identify the container with the following information:         • First and last name;         • Date of birth and Medicare number;         • Date and time of collection.         7) Place the container in the biohazard bag;         8) Wash hands with soap and water;         9) Return the container as soon as possible to laboratory or physician's office.
Patient Preparation       2. Any sputum with saliva or post-nasal secretions are not acceptable for testing;         3. Only specimens obtained from a deep cough and with thick consistency are acceptable for testing.       1) Wear a protective mask;         2) Open the sterile container;       3) Cough to produce a deep expectoration by tapping several times on the chest;         3) Collect expectoration directly into the sterile container. A volume of at least 1n necessary;       5) Close the container tightly;         6) Identify the container with the following information:       • First and last name;         • Date of birth and Medicare number;       • Date and time of collection.         7) Place the container in the biohazard bag;       8) Wash hands with soap and water;         9) Return the container as soon as possible to laboratory or physician's office.
Patient Preparation       3. Only specimens obtained from a deep cough and with thick consistency are acceptable for testing.         1)       Wear a protective mask;         2)       Open the sterile container;         3)       Cough to produce a deep expectoration by tapping several times on the chest;         4)       Collect expectoration directly into the sterile container. A volume of at least 1n necessary;         5)       Close the container tightly;         6)       Identify the container with the following information:         •       First and last name;         •       Date of birth and Medicare number;         •       Date and time of collection.         7)       Place the container in the biohazard bag;         8)       Wash hands with soap and water;         9)       Return the container as soon as possible to laboratory or physician's office.	Patient Preparation
3. Only specimens obtained from a deep cough and with thick consistency are acceptable for testing.         1) Wear a protective mask;         2) Open the sterile container;         3) Cough to produce a deep expectoration by tapping several times on the chest;         4) Collect expectoration directly into the sterile container. A volume of at least 1n necessary;         5) Close the container tightly;         6) Identify the container with the following information:         • First and last name;         • Date of birth and Medicare number;         • Date and time of collection.         7) Place the container in the biohazard bag;         8) Wash hands with soap and water;         9) Return the container as soon as possible to laboratory or physician's office.
<ul> <li>2) Open the sterile container;</li> <li>3) Cough to produce a deep expectoration by tapping several times on the chest;</li> <li>4) Collect expectoration directly into the sterile container. A volume of at least 1n necessary;</li> <li>5) Close the container tightly;</li> <li>6) Identify the container with the following information: <ul> <li>First and last name;</li> <li>Date of birth and Medicare number;</li> <li>Date and time of collection.</li> </ul> </li> <li>7) Place the container in the biohazard bag;</li> <li>8) Wash hands with soap and water;</li> <li>9) Return the container as soon as possible to laboratory or physician's office.</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>Specimen Collection Instructions</li> <li>Close the container tightly;</li> <li>Identify the container with the following information: <ul> <li>First and last name;</li> <li>Date of birth and Medicare number;</li> <li>Date and time of collection.</li> </ul> </li> <li>7) Place the container in the biohazard bag;</li> <li>8) Wash hands with soap and water;</li> <li>9) Return the container as soon as possible to laboratory or physician's office.</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>4) Collect expectoration directly into the sterile container. A volume of at least 1n necessary;</li> <li>5) Close the container tightly;</li> <li>6) Identify the container with the following information: <ul> <li>First and last name;</li> <li>Date of birth and Medicare number;</li> <li>Date and time of collection.</li> </ul> </li> <li>7) Place the container in the biohazard bag;</li> <li>8) Wash hands with soap and water;</li> <li>9) Return the container as soon as possible to laboratory or physician's office.</li> </ul>
Specimen Collection Instructions       necessary;         5) Close the container tightly;         6) Identify the container with the following information: <ul> <li>First and last name;</li> <li>Date of birth and Medicare number;</li> <li>Date and time of collection.</li> </ul> 7) Place the container in the biohazard bag;         8) Wash hands with soap and water;         9) Return the container as soon as possible to laboratory or physician's office.
Specimen Collection Instructions5) Close the container tightly; 6) Identify the container with the following information:
<ul> <li>6) Identify the container with the following information: <ul> <li>First and last name;</li> <li>Date of birth and Medicare number;</li> <li>Date and time of collection.</li> </ul> </li> <li>7) Place the container in the biohazard bag;</li> <li>8) Wash hands with soap and water;</li> <li>9) Return the container as soon as possible to laboratory or physician's office.</li> </ul>
6) Identify the container with the following information:         Instructions         • First and last name;         • Date of birth and Medicare number;         • Date and time of collection.         7) Place the container in the biohazard bag;         8) Wash hands with soap and water;         9) Return the container as soon as possible to laboratory or physician's office.
<ul> <li>Date of birth and Medicare number;</li> <li>Date and time of collection.</li> <li>7) Place the container in the biohazard bag;</li> <li>8) Wash hands with soap and water;</li> <li>9) Return the container as soon as possible to laboratory or physician's office.</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>Date and time of collection.</li> <li>7) Place the container in the biohazard bag;</li> <li>8) Wash hands with soap and water;</li> <li>9) Return the container as soon as possible to laboratory or physician's office.</li> </ul>		,
<ul> <li>7) Place the container in the biohazard bag;</li> <li>8) Wash hands with soap and water;</li> <li>9) Return the container as soon as possible to laboratory or physician's office.</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>8) Wash hands with soap and water;</li> <li>9) Return the container as soon as possible to laboratory or physician's office.</li> </ul>
9) Return the container as soon as possible to laboratory or physician's office.		5.
Additional Information N/A		9) Return the container as soon as possible to laboratory or physician's office.
	Additional Information	N/A
Specimen Conservation • 2 hours at room temperature	Specimen Conservation and Stability	2 hours at room temperature and Stability • 20 to 24 hours refrigerated		• 20 to 24 hours refrigerated